Spring morning

---

Spring morning

I caught this morning,
And I caught the venal being.
The blue sky in the spring,
The little cloud on the wing.

Dawn drawn falcon in his riding,
Of the underneath him thermal air,
and striding.
Rung upon the rein of a wing,
Rolling revel and rising.
And then off forth on gliding,
On a bow-bend the hurl and swing.
How was a little thing.

And wind flapped crawl,
wind was still,
shaken out dead from grass and hill.
And I closed the window,
at the wind's will.

Green pastures, still waters

---

Green pastures, still waters

I'd a vision to-morning,
as I fell asleep;
The touching sight,
grief melts away,
like snow in April;

Green flames wave brightly,
and still waters dreamth fairy;

as the flowers in Spring;How clear and sweet are thy returns,

It is a sight to engage me,
if anything can,
to muse on the perishing pleasures;
The years creep slowly,
But life is short as we are,
And our enjoyments have a stil shorter,
and die sooner than we,
like snow in April:

Light Trap

---

Light Trap

The summer night settles down
With smell of burnt and wet.

The deserted street sleeps
With only one store glowing
Softly, like a rowboat on de ocean

With one light trap, naked bulb
That shines and sounds on killing.

Thinking how it used to be,
Finding it slids away to grey,
And now a million days between.
Then time resumes,
The morn comes to consciousness.

Torching Myth

---

Torching Myth

Sun goes down;
Down to the shadow:
The black blessed day;
Day and Myth;
The shadow glows fill the air;
And the shade changes every levels:

In this kind of the skies, i think;
May the all's right be with the world.

And I Have Felt

---

And I have felt,

And I have felt,

A presence that calling me with the thrill,

Of elevated thoughts,

Of some far more deeply interfused;

Whose dwelling is the flame of life,

And the round night,

And the living shadow,

And the sun of rising,

And in the motion of human being,

A impels all objects of all thought,

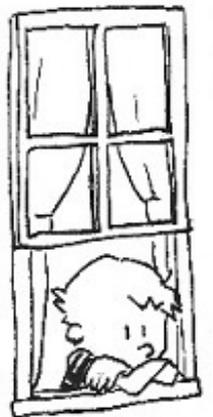

And rolls through all things;

I warmed hands before the fire;

It sinks, and I am ready to depart;

And I with them shall traveled on;

Throgh all Futurity.

Ode To Winter

---

Ode To Winter

Winter, the sweet winter,
in the year's pleasant king;

Then wrapped each thing,
then maids dance in a ring,
cold doth not sting by the fire;
Everybody do sing, do dance, pray;

Young lovers meet, Old wives a warming sit;
In every street these tunes our ears do greet;
Winter, sweet winter!

Six Words

---

A brief autobiography

Not having been dead since 1978.

Threepenny gnome

Sleeper must awaken. Insomniac must sleep.

Day and Mith

Amnesia, coincidence, acknowledgement. So it goes.

All the same diary

Always being half sane, half mad.

Limits exist on outside you see.

A tad askew

Should be being jovial. Moping instead.

Sweet as tragedy, soft as reality.

The difference between you and me.

Wishing there was something to say.

Add your six words stories below.

I could hear you from here.

afterword

---

Thanks a mill for all.
